From Rev. Rob Watkins:

Here is an article I never thought I would write for this church’s newsletter—after 90 years, the Mallard Creek Presbyterian Church BBQ will not happen this year.

That is the sort of year it has been.

So much of what was normal shifted right before us. Going to the grocery store became a moment to consider risks. School stopped being something we sent our children to, becoming something we made sure they had quiet in the living room for so they could focus on an online teacher. Family and friends entered the hospital, and we would not be able to visit them. Eating out became truly eating out as restaurants converted to patio dining for all. The Big Ten—one of the iconic conferences in college football, sporting equally iconic teams from Ohio State, Michigan, and Penn State, will not have a football season. And on goes the list—one thing after another that most of us took completely for granted as parts of the landscape changed.

It was inevitable that it would touch us at church.

It did. Worship for a couple of months was something you tuned into on your laptop. Now, we have answered the prayers of our Property Committee and found a lasting and meaningful use for the Community House, worshipping there every week. We will be doing so on through September. Our Youth Program lost a summer of conferences and mission trips, but will now find a new way to meet outdoors. Choir has become a bi-weekly social gathering on ZOOM. We are using technology in new and wonderful ways, exploring all the possibilities a webpage can offer. Facebook and YouTube are now avenues into church life.

But we have also lost some of the things that had been part of the fabric of our life together. Day in the Park will not happen. We don’t know when choir practice will resume. Sunday School is no longer a community event apart from virtually.

And the BBQ won’t happen this year.

However, we are still the church. Mission happens. We helped our neighbors in need, living in a tent city. We continue to care for the needs of children through Backpack Blessings. Our quilters made bushels of masks for area care facilities. Even without the BBQ, families can still help—the money we might have spent on pounds of BBQ, quarts of stew, and hats and t-shirts can still be donated to mission—imagine what we might be able to do in service to others!

2020 will be a year generations will remember. It will be a year when we recall the world changed. It will be a year that altered all of our lives. But it will also be a year that caused us to grow in new ways, imagine new ways of being, and push us into being an adaptable, adjustable community of faith that found all manner of new avenues for the worship of God and service to the world through Jesus.

2020 will be a year in which we discovered once again that God is good and grace abounds.

Please come and support the American Red Cross at our Blood Drive, Sunday, September 20, 2020 at 10:00am to 2:30pm, in the Gym.
It is near dusk and I am sitting comfortably in an Adirondack chair on the deck of the house we have rented for the week at Litchfield Beach. Just inside the sliding door are Rob, our daughter, Chelsea, and her fiancé, Colton, and our son, Perry, and his fiancée, Kaylee. Someone’s Spotify playlist sings out bluegrass. It is Chelsea’s night to cook, and I can hear the clinking of spoon on metal as she prepares our tilapia for tonight’s supper of fish tacos.

It’s been a wonderful day on the beach. Our brand spanking new Coleman tent provides ample shade for the fair-skinned (like me), while the others bake on towels and chairs just outside the gaze of the tent’s shade. Once again, someone’s Spotify playlist sings out music, 80’s rock this time. Suddenly, I feel old as my adult children refer to 80’s Rock as “old music.” We graze from our stuffed blue nylon cooler from noon on: tuna salad, chips, strawberries, hummus, and homemade honey wheat bread.

Time away from life as usual feeds the soul. It really does. I had no idea how much I needed this time away until I was actually in the middle of it.

This spring and summer of staying in and social distancing due to the novel corona virus have left many of us leery of travel, and for good reason. Some of us are not venturing very far from our front doors, much less to another state for a vacation. Our family is being smart and careful while away, staying to ourselves on the beach and wearing our masks when out for trips to the grocery store. We’ll not eat a meal out, a huge change for us while on vacation, but we do not want to take any unnecessary risks.

It occurs to me that this time away feels like a sabbath, a time for intentional rest, a time of unplugging from all that feels like work, a time to simply be. Of the sabbath, Episcopal priest Barbara Brown Taylor writes,

“At least one day in every seven, pull off the road and park the car in the garage. Close the door to the toolshed and turn off the computer. Stay home not because you are sick but because you are well. Talk someone you love into being well with you...Test the premise that you are worth more than what you can produce—that even if you spent one whole day being good for nothing you would still be precious in God’s sight—and when you get anxious because you are convinced that this is not so, remember that your own conviction is not required. This is a commandment. Your worth has already been established, even when you are not working. The purpose of the commandment is to woo you to the same truth.”

It really doesn’t take a trip to the beach to discover the beauty of sabbath rest. We can create Sabbath wherever we find ourselves. Our souls need sabbath. Our bodies need sabbath. Our hearts need sabbath. It was with intention that God gifted humanity with the sabbath. May we eat and drink from this good gift from God.
“It’s almost time for preschool to open back up and our staff is working really hard to get the preschool ready for our first day on September 8th! We have missed the children so much and can’t wait to see them again and we’re looking forward to seeing all of the new little faces, too!

The 2020-2021 school year is going to look very different for us due to COVID-19, just as it is for many of you. We’ve made many changes to our policies and procedures so that we can provide a safe and healthy environment for all of our children, staff, families, and MCPC members. Some of the changes that you might notice right away are:

• Children and staff will be screened before entering the preschool.
• Staff will be wearing masks or face shields.
• Children can also wear masks if their parents want them to.
• Each class will be kept together as a family unit during the day.
• Children’s Church/Weekly Bible Stories provided virtually for all classes by Ms. Monie Alexander.
• A carpool line will be used for drop-off and pick-up.
• No parents or visitors allowed in the preschool.
• Smaller class sizes.
• Increased cleaning, sanitizing, washing hands, etc. throughout the preschool.
• Social distancing, when possible.

We are so appreciative of our Preschool Board of Directors (Kim Tucker, James Killian, Andrea Thomas, Leigh Johnson, Maria Menconi, Barbara Oehler, Bob Oehler, Christina deKam, and Priscilla Stephens), the MCPC Session, and all of the members of MCPC for all of the support that you have given us throughout this past year and we hope that you will continue to do so again this school year!”

Kristy Maddux, Preschool Director

Honorary Life Membership

Each year, the Honorary Life Membership Award is chosen through nominations from members of the congregation. This award honors faithful service to Presbyterian Women and the church. This year, we are pleased to announce that Linda Wallace is our Honorary Life recipient! This is a much deserved honor, and we continue to appreciate your service.
I would like to thank all who voted and the women of Mallard Creek Presbyterian Church for this honor. All that I do I do for the Lord Jesus Christ. I am human and fell many times, but thank GOD for His forgiveness, I can and will go on. Having said this I do feel there are many, many women in our church who work hard for our church. I am very humble to be among the great women who are on this very prestigious list. Thank you so much for the calls, cards, and flowers I have received over the week. My heart is so full for your thoughtfulness.

With all my love, Linda Wallace
School has started, but like everything else this year, in a very different way as CMS begins the year virtually. Without a doubt, the pandemic has made the need to provide food for families even more important. Backpack Blessings has already started working with both Parkside and University Meadows to assess each school's needs. The counselors are getting together lists of families and we will soon begin our weekly food deliveries. Monetary and/or food donations are both necessary and appreciated to keep the program running. Checks can be written to Presbyterian Women and mailed to the church (be sure to note Backpack Blessings in the memo line of the check) or made online. Food donations can be dropped off in the Backpack Blessing room in the Education Building if you have church keys, brought to worship services on Sunday mornings or coordinate delivery through Maria Menconi (704-560-3961). As always, we request non-perishable foods in small, non-breakable packages. More information will be provided once we know more about the families we are helping. Thanks in advance for your continued support of this program.

The Connection Committee would like to offer a big THANKS to the person or persons who donated anonymously the money for the digital sign in front of the church. Thank you so much for your generosity.

We would also like to THANK on behalf of the Connection Committee and the church, Rusty Wallace, Joe Crapster, Larry Oehler who spent countless hours researching for just the right Digital sign on behalf of the past Reach Out Committees, and the present Connection Committee.

If you have not had a chance to ride by and take a look, please do as it really enhances the front of our church.

GOD BLESS
Linda Wallace
I am so excited about starting a new year of Youth Club and Teen Fellowship! We will kick off the year in September by meeting in separate groups outdoors at the church. Please wear a mask!! Parents make sure to bring your new signed information forms and covenants.

This fall will be full of games, crafts, Bible study, and fellowship! We will be starting a new series about Weird Stories in the Bible – I can’t wait to share with you some of these wild stories and help you to apply them to your life today. God has a lot to tell us through these stories, even if it comes out of a donkey’s mouth! (Numbers 22). I’ll see you guys in-person, outdoors on the following dates from 4-6pm at the church:
